South African Veterinary Council

AUTHORISATION: SECTION 23 (1) (c)

POLICY GUIDELINE ON AUTHORISATION AS VETERINARY TECHNOLOGIST IN TERMS OF SECTION 23(1) (c) OF THE VETERINARY AND PARA-VETERINARY PROFESSIONS ACT AND APPROVED BY COUNCIL ON 31 JULY 2019

PREAMBLE
Section 23 of the Veterinary and Para-Veterinary Professions Act, Act 19 of 1982, (the Act) prohibits unregistered persons from practising any of the professions referred to in the Act or performing any of the procedures referred to in the Act and its regulations and rules. Council does however recognises the need for such services to under special circumstance to be rendered/procedures to be performed by other individuals for a specified period of time.

SECTION 23(1)(c) permits the Veterinary Council to authorise a non-registered person in writing to render for gain a service deemed to pertain specially to a veterinary or Para-veterinary profession. Gain is indirect within the scope of employment with any employer, including the State, and includes professional experience gained as a result of such employment. The authorisation granted is subject to such conditions as the Council may determine.

Authorisation is not to be seen as a short cut for persons without the prescribed qualifications into any of the professions and therefore authorisation is only granted for a specified period of time (1-2 years) in order to assist employers to employ appropriately qualified and registered Veterinary Technology professionals.

It must be noted that the practising of a veterinary or Para-veterinary profession means the rendering of any service deemed by the rules to relate specially to the veterinary or relevant Para-veterinary profession Specific attention is particularly given to the performing of any act aimed at the diagnosing, treating or preventing of any pathological or physiological condition in any animal or which constitutes a surgical procedure on any animal.

The following information serves as a guideline for those who wish to make application to the Veterinary Council for authorisation in terms of Section 23 of the Veterinary and Para-Veterinary Professions Act (Act 19 of 1982) to render for gain a service deemed to pertain specially to the Para-veterinary profession of Veterinary Technologist.

11. Payment of the appropriate non-refundable application fee.
No person may commence any activity or employment referred to above prior to approval of the application by the South African Veterinary Council, the issuing of the signed certificate of authorisation and payment of the authorisation fee. No application will be considered if not all requirements were received.

5. WORKING PERMITS

The overriding consideration in dealing with applications for work permits is whether the employment or task to be undertaken cannot be performed by a South African citizen or an approved immigrant already residing in South Africa. It therefore follows that work permits are only granted in instances where South African citizens or other legal permanent residents are not available for appointment or cannot be trained for the position.

Employment opportunities are as a result of the prevailing economic climate in South Africa extremely limited and there is at present no special drive or project to attract foreign workers to South Africa. Even as far as the so-called scarce employment categories are concerned the position has worsened to the extent where professionally and technically qualified persons are being laid off and are finding it extremely difficult to secure alternative employment. It is for this reason currently a prerequisite that foreigners wishing to take up employment in South Africa must be in possession of firm and acceptable offers of employment commensurate with their training, qualifications and experience before an application for a work permit can be considered.

Employers wishing to introduce foreign workers to South Africa must obtain the permission of the Department of Home Affairs and be able to satisfy the department that they were unable to obtain the required personnel locally. Aspects which are in this regard taken into account are, inter alia, the following:

- Date on which the position (s) became available or vacant.
- Whether the vacancies were advertised and if so, in which papers or other suitable media and the number of insertions.
- Reasons why applicants from the South African labour market who may have responded to the advertisements could not be appointed.
- Whether the Department of Manpower, private employment bureaus or agencies or the relevant trade union or industrial council had been approached with regard to filling the vacancies.
- Whether a local unit can be trained to fill a specific position, even if a foreign specialist has to undertake the training for a limited period on contract.
- Whether the applicant appointed or to be appointed is in possession of any special qualifications, training and experience not obtainable in South Africa.
- In the case of senior positions, whether the proper filling of the vacancy or position by the promotion of existing personnel has received due consideration.

Section 26(2)(a) of the said act provides that an application for a work permit may only be made while the appointment is outside the Republic and such applicant shall not be allowed to enter the Republic until a valid permit has been issued to him or her. Applications must be submitted to the South African foreign office in or the nearest such office to the country of which the applicant is a valid passport holder or the country in which he normally resides and await the outcome prior to making arrangements for departure to South Africa.

Applications are subject to the payment of a non-refundable fee which is presently fixed at USD132 or the equivalent thereof in the monetary unit of the country where the application is submitted. Permits are valid for twelve (12) months and renewals thereof may be applied for in South Africa at a cost of R 520. (As at 01/6/02)

The department is also not averse to granting permits to key personnel seconded by corporate businesses to take up temporary employment in their local branches and to this end all South African foreign offices have been authorized to approve such applicants without referral to Head Office. These transfers should, however, be kept to the minimum required for the effective and smooth running of the business.

The Sub-directorate Temporary Residence of the Department deals with applications for work permits and may be contacted at telephone number (01... or facsimile numbers (012) 321 9890 should further information be required.

The department regularly liaises with the Department of Labour, the relevant trade unions, industrial councils, employers' and employees' organisations and various professional bodies.
regarding the availability of suitably qualified personnel on the local labour market, in order to fulfil a controlling function in the above regard.

6. SOME INTERPRETATIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS

The following interpretations and qualifications have been developed in conjunction with the Department of Home Affairs and must be read in conjunction with the part titled Work Permits. Often times the rules/regulations are not adequately interpreted by Statutory Councils, resulting in poor and erroneous application of the Law.

NOTE: The interpretations and qualifications captured hereunder are not all inclusive and therefore, it becomes necessary to develop them further and, in the event that Council is unclear on any matter the Department of Home Affairs must be contacted for clarity and/or for a final decision.

1. No individual will be allowed to change or apply for a change in his/her visa status whilst in the country for a specific purpose and in terms of the initial visa/permit that has been issued by the Department of Home Affairs. This constitutes a change of purpose and therefore, it is the duty of the Veterinary Council to check on permits at the time of authorisation.

2. A foreign veterinary graduate in any category of veterinary science that is desirous of registering with the South African Veterinary Council and is required to appear for an examination, will only be issued a temporary permit of the purposes of the examination and will be required to leave the country immediately after the examination, the said individual is required to make an application via the South African Mission in his/her country and has to fulfil all criteria as set out by the Department of Home Affairs, before a work permit can be issued. Home Affairs will and must be advised by the South African Veterinary Council before a work permit can be issued.

3. A reciprocal arrangement between statutory regulatory veterinary institutions and Councils only recognise veterinary qualifications for the purposes of practice, but does not automatically allow the said individual to work in South Africa.

An applicant must approach the South African Mission in his/her country, in order to obtain the necessary work permit. Again, it is the responsibility of the South African Veterinary Council to guide and inform the Department of Home Affairs if there has been any change of purpose on entering the Republic, and irrespective of a reciprocal arrangement, why the said expertise is required.

4. No foreign individual will be allowed to make an application to Home Affairs if he is already in the Republic for the issue of a work permit.

5. If a foreign veterinary student is issued a study permit, the permit is valid only for the purposes of study in South Africa, the period of study within a said Veterinary faculty or Para-Veterinary faculty, subject to the conditions of the Department of Home Affairs. Immediately after his/her studies the said individual is required to leave South Africa and the period of study will not be considered for purposes of issuing either a work permit or permanent residence status.

6. It is the responsibility of the South African Veterinary Council to keep the Human Sciences Research Council (H.S.R.C.) abreast with developments in all matters concerning evaluation. That an evaluation conducted by the H.S.R.C. in no way takes precedence over the Statutory Regulatory Body.

7. The manpower situation in respect of veterinary professions must be constantly provided to the Department of Manpower, solely on the basis that the Department of Home Affairs in almost all cases approaches the Manpower Department when evaluating an application for entry into South African for work purposes.

8. In exceptional cases particularly in a rare field of specialisation or in the case of unique skills, the South African Veterinary Council may require that the applicant approach the Department of Home Affairs to issue a work permit for a particular period. Generally applicants at the undergraduate level will not be considered.

9. If an applicant is granted a work permit on the basis of a contract tenure offered to him/her by the employer in a specialised field as stated in (8) above, such person must leave the country after the contract period. In the event that the contract is renewed, the period of work in the Republic will not be considered for purposes of citizenship and/or permanent residence.
10. No Veterinary or Para Veterinary professional whom is a foreigner/expatriate may write the South African Veterinary Council full examination unless he/she is in possession of a valid study, work or other visitor's permit/visa issued by the Department of Home affairs or is legally in the country.
